FROM SEA TO SHINING SEA
FIREFIGHTER IN IRAQ
MAKES A LONG DISTANCE APPEARANCE
AT CALENDAR JUDGING EVENT

May 2005 – Denver, CO – One of the most creative entries at this year's Firefighters Calendar Judging event comes from David Mann, who is currently serving his second tour of duty in Iraq. A result of a lot of hard work and effort from both his wife and military friends, he will be making a special appearance via "satellite" presentation, where he will present his testimonial to the live audience as to why he should be chosen for this year's calendar. Not returning to Denver until June, David's wife, Anne, and her entourage will be present to cheer on her husband, even in his absence. Next to returning to the States to see his children and meet his new baby, she would love to tell him he is also in the calendar.
