

Rocky Mountain News

Mudflap keeps 'em loose at calendar cattle call

Penny Parker, Rocky Mountain News, June 25, 2004

Mudflap, the unflappable KYGO morning show comic, flips one-liners like a professional flapjack flipper.

"The Flap," also known as stand-up comedian Steve McGrew, flipped funnies Wednesday night while helping to judge some hot candidates (some male, some female) for the 2005 Colorado Firefighter Calendar.

"Have you ever taken a cat out of a tree?" he asked one firefighter.

"We don't do that anymore," the calendar hopeful answered.

"You would if it was on fire."

When one would-be pinup mistakenly observed that the 12-person panel was all female, Mudflap, the only male judge, shot back, "You've slept with some ugly women, haven't you?"

When a fireman with the first name Herb stepped before the panel of judges, Mudflap asked him whether he preferred to be called Herb or herb (silent "h").

In the end, the 38 calendar contenders were good sports for a good cause. Proceeds of the calendar will benefit The Children's Hospital Burn Center in Denver.

The top 12 vote-getters will grace the pages of the new publication, scheduled to be released in October.

Monthly sponsorships are still available for $1,500. More info: Kirsten Hamling, 303-520-8733, or Kate Varden, 720-203-5458